HOW THE PRICE IS BUILT

Three lines. No surprises.

Base construction

Everything from excavation to keys, including a $50,000 labor / supervision line inside the base.

Builder's fee

$50,000, a separate line below the construction subtotal.

Design & engineering

Architectural, civil, structural, geotechnical and survey as needed — $25,000 in the July proposals, $30,000 in the August ones.

Construction by United Signature, WA reg. UNITESE790Q3. Seven to fourteen months, design to move-in.

Construction by United Signature, the builder of record named in every proposal.

A HousUp preliminary feasibility report is an estimate based on publicly available records. It is not a guarantee of permit approval, buildability, property value or final construction cost. A professional review, including a site visit, comes before any scope or price is proposed. Referral fees are paid to a real estate brokerage firm, never to an individual licensee (RCW 18.85.361(19)). Program disclosures →
